1. Become our member

The screenshot shows the JIC website's navigation menu on the left, including 'Editorial Board', 'Guide for Authors', 'Contact Us', and 'Related Links'. Below the menu is a Google Custom Search box and the JIC logo. The main content area features a navigation breadcrumb 'Index > Paper Submission'. Two boxes are present: a login form titled 'Sign in with your JIC profile credentials' with fields for 'Account' and 'Password', a 'Forgot password?' link, and a 'Sign In >' button; and a registration box titled 'Register now if you don't have JIC profile credentials' with a 'Register >' button. The registration box is highlighted with a red border.

2. Login with your account

This screenshot is identical to the one above, showing the JIC website's navigation and login/register options. In this version, the login form titled 'Sign in with your JIC profile credentials' is highlighted with a red border, while the registration box is not.

3. Paper submission

Objective

In order to promote international cooperation and knowledge exchanges, Journal of International Cooperation (JIC) is created to publish a broad range of topics that involve international cooperation. Publications are categorized into five research areas, Agriculture and Fishery, Business and Management, Engineering and Science, Public Health and Medicine, and Others. This journal is issued semi-annually, every March and September.

Qualification for Publication

Manuscripts from original research in full-length articles, short communications, and book reviews are welcomed. Submission of an article implies that the work described has not been published previously (except in the form of multiple peer-reviewed
